

Reds Promise Reply By Wednesday On Korean Armistice

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP)—Red cease-fire delegates today promised to give their overall reply Wednesday to an Allied proposal for an armistice in 30 days in Korea.

At the close of an hour and 15-minute session at Panmunjom, they asked and got a recess through Tuesday. They wanted to study a plan keyed to a truce line which courses up to more than 25 miles north of parallel 38.

Peiping Speaks Up
The Reds apparently want to refer the matter to Peiping — where Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai today issued a statement backing up a Russian proposal that parallel 38 be the line of demarcation for divided Korea.

Chinese Red Gen. Hsieh Fang of the Communist delegation said the Reds, after studying the plan, would come back Wednesday with the overall reply. The hour of the next meeting will be 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday, EST).

The Allies have proposed that the present line of battle contact across Korea be accepted as a temporary demarcation line now and that such a line become the permanent cease-fire line if a full armistice is signed within 30 days.

Fighting Goes On

If all armistice problems are not settled in 30 days, the U. N. plan calls for a new demarcation line to be fixed, based on "such conditions as will be at the time mutually agreed to by the delegations of both sides." Continued fighting might have changed it by then. Point one of the Allied proposal states that fighting will go on until an armistice is signed.

It was the fourth and last point in the U. N. plan which took up most of the time at Monday's session in Panmunjom. The meeting was the 26th of the joint sub-committees since the armistice talks resumed Oct. 25.

Once before in the long drawn out talks, a Communist recess resulted in settlement of a deadlock. Last July the Reds asked for and got a three-day recess. Immediately afterward, the two delegations agreed on an armistice agenda.

Deer Guns Kill 8 In Michigan; 33 Others Hurt

(By The Associated Press)

Gunfire had killed at least eight hunters as Michigan's 1951 deer season moved into its fifth day today (Monday).

Thirty-three others were injured by bullets and at least ten hunters were dead of heart attacks and two were asphyxiated.

A young bride and a little girl, members of a hunting party, drowned in the Manistee river Sunday.

The latest gunshot deaths to be reported were those of Oscar H. Lindberg, 57, of Benton Harbor, and an off-duty state policeman Charles Hacht, 26, West Branch. Lindberg's body was found in the woods ten miles northeast of Marquette in Gogebic county late Sunday.

Shot In Temple

He had been shot through the right temple. State police were investigating.

Hacht died at Tolfree hospital of a wound suffered accidentally at the hands of another state trooper, 26-year-old Jack Wuthrich of West Branch. Both were on vacation and had been hunting at Trout Lake in the Upper Peninsula with his brother, Deputy Sheriff Harvey Hancock.

The young bride and a little girl who drowned Sunday when they decided to go for a boat ride while the men were out shooting were:

Mrs. Barbara Henseleit, 17, married just a month, and nine-year-old Mary Ellen Flanagan, both of Muskegon.

The boat they rented was found overturned, caught on a snag. Police dragged the river for a time but had to give up because of poor

Truman Sits By Fire In Florida

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

KEY WEST, Fla. — President Truman huddled close to a blazing driftwood fire today, putting into final form a political speech he will fly back to Washington to deliver tomorrow night.

A navy meteorologist's forecast of a maximum temperature of 64 degrees offered the discouraging prospect that the president would have to forego a swim in the Atlantic a second straight day.

His speech, to the Women's National Democratic club, is expected to be a reiteration of his advocacy of his "fair deal" domestic program which he is writing into a "state of the union" message for delivery to congress in January, and urge continued support for an international policy inseparably linked to the United Nations.

Mr. Truman will fly from the Boca Chica airport tomorrow and fly back from Washington Wednesday with Mrs. Truman. Their daughter, Margaret, now in Florida on a concert tour, will join them later.

Cold winds of 35-mile-an-hour velocity and a temperature of 58 degrees kept the president from the beach yesterday.

Hirohito Signs U. S. Peace-Security Pacts

TOKYO — (AP) — Emperor Hirohito today signed the Japanese peace treaty and the U. S.-Japan security pact.

His signature, at Nara where he is on tour, completed Japanese action on the documents. The diet gave its approval yesterday.

The United States Senate was expected to do likewise early next year. The pacts were agreed upon in September at San Francisco.

Thousands Marooned By Raging Po Flood

ROVIGO, Italy — (AP) — A growing fleet of small boats fought the whirling currents of the rampaging Po river today to rescue thousands of marooned flood victims.

The waters, which in the last 10 days have brought death to more than 100 North Italians and dislodged nearly 200,000 refugees, spread muddy ruin over a delta triangle 36 miles deep and 18 miles wide at its Adriatic Sea base.

Submerged in the triangle were the towns of Adria, with 35,000 residents; Cavareze, with 25,000; Loreo, 11,000 and Dognada, 8,700, plus scores of villages, hamlets and farms.

How many of the homeless had been rescued and how many waited desperately in upper stor-

Dug-In Allied Forces Block Chinese Attack

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — Chinese Reds furiously counterattacked in central Korea today but couldn't budge a dug-in allied division which had smashed them back three miles in a two-day line-straightening offensive.

British forces beat off a 12-hour Communist attack on the western end of the battle line.

In the east, U. N. command troops were knocked off two hills, but recaptured one a few hours later.

Convicted WACs Have No Prison

CAMP BRECKINRIDGE, Ky. — (AP) — A slightly puzzled army pondered today the problem of where to imprison six WAC sergeants sentenced to serve time for beating a fellow WAC.

The confusion stems from one major detail—the army has no prison facilities for women offenders.

Col. Barney Daughtry, Camp Breckinridge chief of staff, said he knew of no precedent in the matter of a female member of the armed services facing possible time behind bars.

The six sergeants were convicted of assault and battery on Pfc. Carol Ann Kierce, 20-year-old Mount Vernon, Ohio, girl. They were tried by court martial last week and given terms of one to 2½ years.

Carol said she was kicked and beaten into unconsciousness because she testified at the trial of another WAC, a friend of the sergeants', before a military administrative board.

The army declined to discuss that case other than to say the defendant WAC was given a dishonorable discharge.

At Mount Vernon, Carols father, Marshall E. Kierce, said his daughter had "witnessed an affair" involving the discharge WAC.

Underground Atomic Explosion Predicted At Las Vegas Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (AP) — The first in a new series of atomic detonations went off at the Yucca flat test site at 9 a. m. (PST) today.

A flash was visible in Las Vegas, 75 miles from the test site. But this time there was no immediate formation of the customary atomic cloud-visible here.

This might indicate that this was an underground detonation which newsmen had been expecting but which the Atomic Energy commission did not immediately confirm.

Only One Hurt

POLESWORTH, England — (AP) — A Scottish night express train bound for London derailed here just before dawn today but only one of its 400 passengers was injured. The engineer also received minor injuries.

North Korean skies without spotting one Communist plane up to noon.

A pair of daring American Sabre jet pilots Sunday shot up eight Red MIG-15 jets on the ground at an air base in northwestern Korea—the first time enemy jets have been caught on the ground. Seven other MIGs were reported hit in three air battles.

The Allied division which shoved the Communists off a series of ridges southeast of Kumsong on the central front was hit three times Sunday night and Monday morning by counterattacking Reds.

A Chinese battalion tried for three hours to dent the Allied line but the attackers were thrown back and finally quit the battle shortly before dawn, the Eighth Army said. Two other counterattacks also failed to dislodge the doughboys, the Army added.

Allied infantrymen pushed the Reds off still another hill on the nine-mile divisional front east of the Pukhan river.

U. N. command troops were shoved off two hill positions south of Kumsong in eastern Korea Sunday night, but counterattacked Monday morning and recaptured one of the peaks.

Wife Uses Car To Hit Husband

OAKLAND, Calif. — (AP)—Mrs. Edith Ray was accused today of assaulting her husband with the family car as climax to a Sunday morning argument. A policeman rushing to the scene was killed in a collision.

Police said Mrs. Ray let her husband, George, out near the dairy where he works, wheeled their auto around, chased him onto the sidewalk, and whacked him with the bumper. Ray said 15 feet into a parked car, suffering cuts, bruises and a fractured leg.

Then, police said, Mrs. Ray banged the car into a telephone pole. Officers said they found her sitting in the car, dazed but suffering only facial cuts. She is 29, her husband 30.

Robert A. Farrou, 18, was held for investigation of manslaughter after his car collided with a police car driven by Patrolman Eugene M. Oneto, 28. The officer, speeding to the scene of the Ray affray with siren screaming and red lights flashing, was hurled out of the car onto the pavement. He died at a hospital.

Mrs. Ray was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, driving on the wrong side of the street, speeding, violating a pedestrian's right-of-way, and driving with an expired license.

Navy Divers Aided By Underwater TV

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy has developed an underwater television setup to lessen the hazards and difficulties often encountered by divers working on the bottom of the sea.

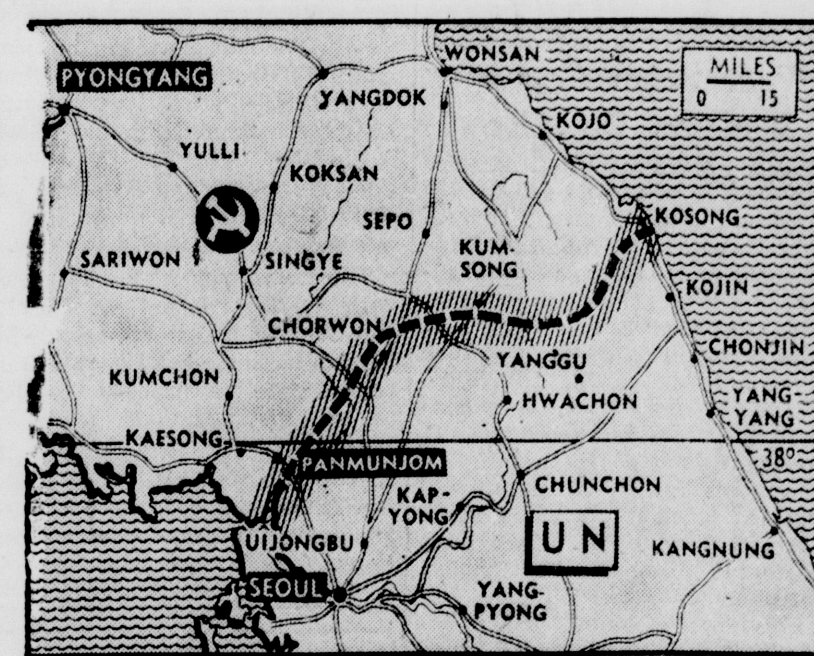

Wraps were taken off the project Saturday when the navy told of perfection of an underwater T-V camera that has been used at depths as great as 400 feet. Experts had been working on the sea-to-surface setup for three years.

Justice Fred Vinson Suggested As Man To Unite Democrats

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chief Justice Fred Vinson — being talked of today as a possible presidential nominee who might unify the Democratic party.

The latest public plug for Vinson as a candidate came yesterday from Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), a western Democrat who sometimes votes with Dixie and Republican colleagues and supports only a part of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program.

Farley For Veep
Johnson told a television (NBC) audience he doesn't believe President Truman will run again, "and he predicted the party would turn to Vinson. The Colorado senator added he doesn't believe Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be nominated by either party. He conceded, however, that the General would be "a strong candidate" if he were nominated.

Vinson, a 60-year-old Kentuckian, has been mentioned as a possible choice of Mr. Truman for his party's nomination if the President doesn't run again. The President and the chief justice are close personal as well as political friends.

Johnson said he thinks southern Democrats, who are planning a revolt against incorporation of President Truman's Civil Rights proposals in next year's Democratic platform, would go along with Vinson and he would be elected. He suggested James A.

Farley as a vice presidential candidate to replace Vice President Barkley, who like Vinson is a Kentuckian.

More Taxes Opposed

The Colorado senator said he doesn't think Mr. Truman or anyone else will be able to "dictate" the structure of the party platform. Asked about the Civil Rights issue, he replied:

"I don't think Civil Rights should dominate the platform." Johnson also voiced vigorous opposition to any further increase in taxes, a issue that may go before the party convention if Congress declines to act on an expected presidential request for a boost in levies.

Eastern States Have Snowfall

(By The Associated Press)

Icy air gave most of the nation a numbing chill over the weekend and some eastern states had heavy snowfalls to go along with the freezing weather.

Snow fell for 24 hours without a letup in some sections of Pennsylvania, dumping 18 inches at Kane, in northwestern Pennsylvania. Heavy snow also smacked parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland, with 15 inches reported near Cleveland.

Cold, numbing weather extended over a vast area. Florida, in the path of biting northwest winds, reported the coldest weather of the season today. Truck crops as far south as the Everglades were threatened.

Threat of frost forced some California citrus growers to break out smudge pots. Temperatures hovered near the 32 mark yesterday in Southern California.

Early morning temperatures today showed Eau Claire, Wis. one of the coldest spots with -1. Other readings were Duluth 2, International Falls, Minn. 1, New York 31, Chicago 18, Cincinnati 18, Los Angeles 53, New Orleans 38, Pendleton, Ore., 13, Amarillo, Tex., 30, Seattle 51.

Berserk Pontiac Man Dies Of His Wounds After Battling Police

PONTIAC, Mich. — (AP) — A 33-year-old husband who went berserk last week and staged a three and a half hour gun battle with Pontiac police is dead of wounds he suffered in the shooting.

Dale Emery died yesterday in Pontiac general hospital. Dr. Leon F. Cobb said complications of chest wounds from a .38 revolver caused his death.

Emery, a one-time mental patient, barricaded himself in his apartment Tuesday evening and shot it out with 40 police officers, defying their efforts to dislodge him with tear gas.

When police finally broke down the apartment door, they found Emery wounded on a couch.

His wife, Lillian, told officers her husband had held her prisoner for five days after she said she was going to get a divorce. She said she escaped from the apartment by telling him she was going to see a doctor.

Gradual Slash Sought In All War Weapons

Communist States To Be Invited

PARIS — (AP)—The Western Big Three asked the United Nations today to set up a 12-nation disarmament commission to start the ball rolling toward the step-by-step, supervised arms reduction proposed by the United States, France and Britain.

The proposal was introduced today before the U. N. general assembly's political committee by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson. It puts into resolution form the earlier Big Three declarations of need for supervised gradual disarmament and a census of all weapons, including atomic.

Vishinsky Listens

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky listened impassively, as Acheson urged all countries not "to turn aside into the noisome alleys of propaganda."

Acheson was asking the U. N., in its 60-nation political committee, to adopt a program which would set up a 12-nation disarmament commission to start the ball rolling in a step-by-step supervised arms reduction as proposed by the U. S., France and Britain.

The disarmament commission, to be composed of the U. N. Security Council and Canada, would draw up plans for a world-wide arms reduction conference. Such non-U. N. nations as Communist China would be invited to the conference.

As in the security council, all of the Big Five—Britain, China, France, the Soviet Union and the United States—would have to agree on the proposed commission's decisions. Each of the five would have the veto power.

Hunters Take 1008 Deer Across Straits

ST. IGNACE, Mich. — (AP) — Hunters have brought 1,008 deer back across the Straits of Mackinac from the Upper Peninsula since the 1951 big game season opened Thursday.

Besides the 1,008 deer, hunters had boarded ferries across the Straits up to last midnight with 23 bear, 1 coyote, two bobcats, three foxes and a wolf.

To the same time a year ago, the count was 1,131 deer, 18 bear, two coyotes, and two bobcats.

Week End Accidents Kill 17 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Eighteen persons — excluding deer hunters—died in weekend accidents in Michigan.

Eleven of the victims died in highway smashups.

Fire claimed three lives. A duck hunter fatally shot himself. A young bride and a nine-year-old girl drowned in the Manistee river when their boat overturned. A farmhand's clothing caught in machinery at a corn elevator and he was crushed.

Hunter Dies Of Pneumonia

Homer Albin, Detroit, Stricken On Trip

Stricken with pneumonia while on a deer hunting trip to Northern Michigan, Homer C. Albin, 49, of 21153 Karl avenue, Detroit, died at 2:25 p. m. yesterday in St. Francis hospital.

An emergency patient, Albin was rushed to the hospital by his hunting companion with police escort at 9:50 p. m. Nov. 15 from Gladstone, where the party stopped at the state police post to ask directions to the hospital.

The car carrying the ill man was driven by William F. Miller, Huntington Woods, Mich.

Homer Curtis Albin, was born July 5, 1902, in Saffordville, Kansas. For 25 years he was a patrolman in Precinct No. 6. He retired in August of this year.

He was a member of St. Mathews Methodist church in Detroit; Tudor No. 578 F. and A. M. police lodge; the Metropolitan Square and Compass club; and the Detroit Police Officers' club.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Darlene and Sharon; his mother, Mrs. William Albin; and two brothers, Ralph and Howard, all of Detroit; one brother, Murray of Taylor Twp.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Sharpe, Taylor Township and Mrs. Lorraine Nackenhenn, Dunlap, Kansas.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home. It will be slipped this evening to the Northrup funeral home in Detroit.

Mrs. Roberts, 83, Dies, Funeral Services Tomorrow

Mrs. Albina Roberts, 83, widow of Hubert N. Roberts, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lon Vandervort, 1509 Third avenue north. She had been in poor health many years and was seriously ill the past six months.

Mrs. Roberts was born in Hull, Canada, May 17, 1867, and she moved from Canada to L'Anse 70 years ago. She had lived in Escanaba the past 40 years. She was a member of St. Ann's sodality.

Surviving are six children: Antone, Hubert and Mrs. Vandervort, the former Laura Roberts, Escanaba; Ted and Mrs. Lee (Rosella) Shipway of Milwaukee; and Mrs. Alberta Hartig, Hartland, Wis.; 18 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Services will be held at St. Ann's chapel at 9 Tuesday and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. The body is at the Allo funeral home where the rosary will be recited at 8 this evening.

U. P. State Fair Plans Outlined

Board Of Managers Meets In Escanaba

Preliminary plans for the 1952 Upper Peninsula State Fair, which will be held Aug. 19 to 24, were made at a meeting of the board of managers in Escanaba over the weekend.

Board members in attendance were: John MacInnis, Sault Ste. Marie, chairman and secretary-manager; Victor Lemmer, Ironwood; Ben Miller, Hancock; and Earl Allingham, Escanaba.

Ray Olson of Hancock, midway superintendent, discussed plans for midway attractions. Ralph Sheehan of the Michigan State Police and Prof. Van Tassel of Northern Michigan College of Education outlined plans for a safe driving program at the fair.

The board voted to cooperate with the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Timber Producers association in staging the 1952 Loggers Congress at the fairgrounds in late September.

MacInnis and Lemmer will go to Chicago on Nov. 25 to attend the International Livestock Show and book the grandstand attractions.

Voland Plays Leading Role

'Darkness At Noon' Here Thursday

"Darkness at Noon", the much discussed drama of the New York stage, will be presented at the William W. Oliver auditorium here Thursday, Thanksgiving evening as the first in the series of Civic Drama Guild productions sponsored here by the Escanaba Lions club.

Season ticket for the three plays, which also include "Voice of the Turtle" and "Heaven Can Wait", are available from any member of the Lions club or at Gust Asp's.

An outstanding cast will be presented in "Darkness at Noon", starring Herbert Voland, who is rounding out his fifth season with the Civic Drama Guild. He is familiar to Civic Drama Guild patrons as he played "Brook" in "Born Yesterday" and "Dr. Slop" in "The Heiress", both plays presented here in past seasons.

Elizabeth Lawrence, who played the sensitive daughter in "The Heiress" will play the role of "Luba" in "Darkness at Noon". Miss Lawrence has played many roles in television between Civic Drama Guild seasons.

Others who will be presented in the cast of the opening play of the season here are Loyal T. Lucas, whose stage career goes back to the days of the silent movies when he played with Mark Pickford, Buster Keaton and Douglas Fairbanks, sr.; Allan Gruener, Norman Biem, Peter Thompson and Richard Kuss, all seasoned actors.

"Darkness at Noon" is currently playing its second year of its New York run. It is hailed as one of the best dramas in years.

"Voice of the Turtle" will be presented here on January 10 and "Heaven Can Wait" will be presented March 6, 1952.

Four Debating Teams Compete

Practice Contest In Kingsford

Two varsity and two reserve teams of the Escanaba senior high school participated in the first practice debate held in Kingsford Saturday. Escanaba was one of 14 schools to send squads to the contest.

Escanaba debaters fared as follows:

Negative varsity — Katherine Walch and Lynn Bergman were defeated by the affirmative varsity team from Bessemer. Mary Larson and Lynn Bergman were defeated by the Ironwood varsity affirmative team.

Affirmative varsity—Pat Heminger and Nancy Duchaine lost to the Kingsford and Newberry varsity negative teams.

Negative reserve — Katherine Walch and Marilyn Myers were victorious over the affirmative reserve team from Manistique.

Affirmative reserve—The Manistique negative reserve team was defeated by Ann Aronson and Nancy Farrell.

Other members of the Escanaba squad who made the trip are Maxine Bernsten, Denis Harbath, Ann Krantz and Jim Johnson. The debates scheduled for these students were cancelled.

The next practice debate will be held in Manistique during December.

With The Deer Hunters

Becoming lost while deer hunting is one of the commonest hunting adventures, but the experienced hunter takes it in his stride and comes out little the worse for it.

In the lost and found column today are Harry Belanger, 26, and Robert Stevens, 26, both of Gladstone, who spent last night in the woods in the Ensign area. They became lost yesterday afternoon, the conservation department was alerted at 12:30 a. m. today, and Conservation Officer Hugh Fisher of Garden made an unsuccessful effort to find them.

Going back early this morning to the scene he learned the two had come out under their own power.

On the general hunting scene today the story was otherwise pretty much the same in the Escanaba district.

The kill was light except in the eastern section of Delta County: snow covered the district, with blinding blizzards yesterday afternoon in some sections; and many hunters were already leaving the woods—with or without their bucks.

The present cold wave (10 above forecast for tonight) will pass and by Wednesday thawing temperatures are expected.

Four of the six hunters at the Poki camp at Browns Lake connected so far in the season.

George DeGrand of 1801 Fifth avenue south bagged a nine-pointer weighing 170 pounds; Mike Breclaw of Vulcan shot a buck with seven points weighing 150 pounds; and Walter Opolka of Wells downed a 125-pound four-pointer; and Lyon Opolka of 1530 Sheridan Road returned with an 11-point 250-pound buck.

They have all returned to camp to hunt bear. The luckless two are Peter Breclaw of 1800 11th avenue north, and Frank Opolka of Vulcan.

On the youthful side of the hunting picture is Bob Parcell, 14, of Marine City, who yesterday bagged a four-pointer west of Rapid River. He is hunting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Parcell, who are staying at the Don Walters cabins, Rapid River.

Also at the Walters cabins is Charles Belke of Unionville, who connected with a sixpoint buck Friday in the Ogontz area.

Among the largest bucks taken so far this season are those shot by Tom O'Dess, Detroit, and Alfred Johnson of Escanaba.

O'Dess, friend of Emil Perow of Escanaba, downed a 225-pound 10-pointer while hunting at the Perow camp near Hardwood on the opening day. Emil also filled his license, but the report on size is incomplete.

Johnson bagged a 17-point, 250-pound grandpa of a buck Friday while hunting out of his camp near Northland. Friends reported that even the liver was too tough for meals at camp.

B. F. Schultz, Escanaba Daily Press photographer, returned home with a smile and a 110-pound spikehorn, downed Saturday while hunting near Northland.

Young in years but now a veteran hunter is Johnny Lund, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oliver Lund of Rapid River, who shot his first deer Sunday while hunting with his father at Eighteen Mile lake.

Johnny's buck was a four-pointer weighing 180 pounds killed with a ball load from a 410 shot gun. His father was satisfied with a spikehorn buck downed the first day of the season.

First year hunting and the first deer killed by him is the record of Roger Miron, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Miron of Cornell Rt. 1. Roger bagged a 12-point 200-pounder yesterday while hunting back of his father's farm.

Successful hunters on opening day at Stardust Lodge south of Escanaba on M-35 were Don Colby and Gled Rowe of Detroit, who returned with eight-pointers they bagged in the Cedar River area.

Three of the five hunters in the party at the William Richer camp near Helps came home last night with licenses filled.

They are Donald Wertz of 1310 Second avenue south, William Richer of 1101 First avenue north, and Tony Bottesi of 407 South 12th street. Eli Sayen and Jesse Pomazal of Escanaba, the two other members of the party, were as yet unsuccessful.

Add to the list of successful hunters the name of Kenneth R. Carlson, engineer first class on the submarine USS Tambor, Detroit, downed a spikehorn weighing 150 pounds while hunting Friday at Boney Falls. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Carlson, Escanaba, Rt. 1.

Another hunter attached to the government is Lloyd Hulett, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard light house station at Escanaba, who bagged an eight-point, 290-pound buck at Stonington Saturday morning.

One of the most sportsmanlike married couples in Delta county are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Young of 710 South 19th street, Escanaba.

Lawrence, who went hunting while his wife took care of their two young daughters bagged an eight-point buck Saturday afternoon at Earl Iverson's camp at Northland.

On Thursday this week Mrs. Young will go to the Iverson camp to hunt, while Lawrence stays home with the children. "He's through—now it's my turn," Mrs. Young explained.

William Peltier, sr., Bark River, and his two sons, William, jr., and John of Flint filled their licenses last week. The senior member of the family got the biggest buck, a ten pointer, weighing over 200 pounds, and his sons brought down a five pointer and a six pointer, in the LaBranche territory.

Religion Class

At Later Hour

The regular weekly class in religion conducted by Father Ronald Bassett Monday evenings at William Bonifas auditorium will begin at 8:30 this evening instead of the customary hour, 8.

The change was made because of the Forty Hours Devotion services at St. Patrick's church and will give people of the parish an opportunity to attend the services and still be on time for the class in religion.

Ore Shipping Is Delayed By Cold

Eight Boats Here And Two More Due Today

Temperatures dropping well below freezing has again tied ore shipping in knots at Escanaba and other iron ore ports of the Upper Lakes.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad started its steam plant in the Danforth yards, sent eight watering engines to the docks, and tried to keep the ore flowing into the holds of waiting carriers.

Six boats were at dock today, here, the Sts. Hurlbut Smith and Adriatic, were an anchor in the bay and the Sts. Hennepin and Morrell were due today as the weekend cold wave delayed shipping. No more boats are scheduled here until Wednesday.

Ore loading at the mines was halted Friday as the cold wave staged an unseasonably early return. Temperatures in Escanaba dropped to 15 above early today.

The forecast is for 10 above tonight—but the cold will break by Wednesday with some thawing temperatures that afternoon.

Gen. Ridgway Confirms Story Of Red Atrocities In Korea

GENERAL RIDGWAY has confirmed the Communist atrocity killings of American soldiers in Korea but the UN commander expressed regret that the information was made public at this time.

The general declared "that the shocking impact of the brutality which has been revealed should have been no surprise to the American people." Gen. Ridgway, we fear, was rationalizing the military's failure to reveal this important information to the American people and to the whole world earlier.

The massacres have continued virtually throughout the entire course of the Korean war. Up to now, there have been no indications that the Reds were committing mass murders of war prisoners. It is true that as Gen. Ridgway intimated the American people may have anticipated something like this in view of the known ruthlessness and thirst for blood of Communist military leaders.

There was, however, no value in keeping the atrocities in Korea secret. We do not agree with Gen. Ridgway that disclosure of the information at this time causes needless anguish among relatives of soldiers.

More Evidence Of News Censorship

AN example of how some local governing boards attempt to control the reporting of their meetings occurred at Wampsville, New York last week when the Madison (N. Y.) county board of supervisors issued a request to news reporters to show their notes to the board's public relations committee.

The committee chairman said that the request is "not a formal demand" and he insisted that its purpose is not to censor the news but merely to see that all reporters "have the story." One would have to be extremely naive, of course, to accept this explanation at its face value. Even if it were true, which it probably is not, it would indicate a degree of official paternalism that is obnoxious, to say the least.

Reporters at the meeting said they would cooperate "to a certain extent," we do not know, of course, what they mean by that but in all probability, it doesn't mean that the reporters are prepared to tell the board committee in advance how they will prepare their stories. And it certainly could not mean that the reporters are willing to submit their prepared stories of board meetings to the committee for censorship in advance of publication.

The proper way to treat the request is simply to ignore it and we suspect that the news reporters on this assignment will not accede to such a preposterous proposal. To accept such terms could only lead to some form of official censorship.

Fortunately, all governing bodies are not this way. Escanaba Daily Press reporters do not run into this kind of opposition in covering meetings of the city council, the board of supervisors, the board of education and other local governing agencies.

American Consumer Has Freedom Of Choice

UNDER free enterprise, the consumer has freedom of choice. He can go into any store, look around and buy, as he pleases. He can shop about from store to store seeking the most attractive deal.

Things are different in a totalitarian economy. For instance, the book business in communist Lithuania had been in the doldrums. So a cooperative federation there decided to improve sales by deducting money from the paychecks of its workers for the compulsory purchase of books—whether the workers wanted books or not! It also compelled every consumer purchasing any article to buy one or more books in addition!

This is the same as if, when you went into a store to buy an overcoat, you were forced to buy a pair of shoes too, or go without the coat. Today an American merchant would last about twenty minutes if he attempted to follow such a policy. All his trade would move with the swiftness of a hurricane to the stores of his competitors.

Actually, in most foreign countries there is nothing that bears even a good resemblance to our splendid American retail stores. And in the communist countries, of course, the consumer gets what the bosses want to give him—which is usually the bare minimum needed for subsistence on the near-starvation level—and he likes it or lumps it. Everything is rationed, and practically everything is scarce and extremely expensive when measured in terms of the average man's earnings. Freedom of choice is unknown.

All in all, American retailing is just about a perfect example of the virtues of the whole free enterprise system.

Turkey Talk

By Gordon Martin

With Thanksgiving in the offing, I would plan the day ahead, and would make some resolutions which should serve me in good stead. I would recognize that years have added something to my girth, and at this Thanksgiving dinner, I'll not eat for all I'm worth. So that I will have at hand a guide to follow on that day, I will jot down here the rules from which I will not go astray:

I will nibble appetizers passed around before the meal, and although I'd like to wolf them down, my drooling I'll conceal. I'll accept the heaping portion of the turkey on my plate, and protest it's quite too much for one of sad reducing fate. I will never ask for seconds from the mashed potato bowl, or for still more tasty gravy, as I exercise control. Not another scrap of stuffin' or the other things so good, as I brush aside temptation as a steady fellow should.

I will scarcely touch the pumpkin pie with whipped cream for a crown, and when others ask another piece, I'll fix them with a frown. Why, it isn't any effort to go easy on the eats, and to exercise discretion with that final tray of sweets. But I think, in case I change my mind, when comes Thanksgiving Day, I'll just free myself and throw this list of silly rules away.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The job of finding a spotless company to produce aluminum for lagging defense production is much like that of Diogenes looking for an honest man.

Below are printed the war records of the three chief companies considered by the National Production Authority for aid in setting up a new aluminum plant. Significantly no agency of the government bothered to look up these records, but left it to the press. Today the FBI is required to spend weeks, sometimes months, checking on the loyalty of a prospective government employee; while there is absolutely no system for checking on the records of companies getting lush war contracts.

Furthermore, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball has flatly refused to give the record on the Harvey Machine company to his cabinet colleague, the secretary of the interior, or to a house investigating committee. (Kimball and the Harveys are Californians, with Lawrence Harvey high in Democratic political councils.)

In addition the defense mobilization administration is barred by congress from building plants of its own if it cannot find a company qualified to build one. This ban, urged by GOP Senators Mundt of South Dakota and Taft of Ohio has seriously impeded defense mobilization.

Meanwhile, the navy records, which this columnist has seen, show that the Harvey Machine company was investigated by naval intelligence during the war for making off-sized gauges which presumably would help to pass off-sized shells past naval inspectors without the inspectors realizing the shells did not fit specifications.

A naval report, dated Jan. 27, 1944, signed by Capt. L. D. Webb, and recommending against the use of Harvey on another navy contract, quotes naval intelligence in part, as follows:

NAVAL REPORT

"A check of gauges at the Long Beach plant of subject, disclosed that one of the gauges being used for navy inspection was defective. Investigation disclosed that approximately 150 defective gauges manufactured by subject were delivered to the Long Beach plant for use in company and navy inspection. The defect in these gauges was such as would enable subject to attain the acceptance of faulty projectiles by the navy. Investigation discloses that Herbert Harvey, plant manager, purposely devised a gear-ratio to be used on the navy-owned thread-grinding machine used to manufacture the gauges.

The defect in the gauges caused by use of the substandard gear-ratio was not discernible without thorough examination. Admiral Joseph DeFrees . . . Requested that steps be taken to cause the institution of criminal proceedings, if a criminal statute has been violated."

"Dated 22 May 1943, the cognizant war frauds division prosecutor of the department of justice, in writing to say that 'inherent weaknesses of the case' (i. e. inability to prove to a jury the navy department was seriously injured by subject's actions) would make it extremely difficult to secure a conviction, added:

"This does not mean, however, that we have closed our files on this matter, and I have asked one of our attorneys to prepare a memorandum of law applicable to the facts set forth in the investigative reports."

Captain Webb, when queried by this column, stated that although he had then recommended against further use of the Harvey Machine company, he now felt that they had the initiative necessary for the production of aluminum. He also admitted that he had received a phone call direct from Secretary of the Navy Kimball regarding the Harveys.

Investigation by this columnist leads to similar conclusions—namely, that the Harveys have the drive and initiative necessary for production, and that their record, while far from spotless, is far, far better than others under consideration.

TWO WRONGS EQUAL ONE RIGHT

After the Harvey record was published, NPA proceeded to award the aluminum contract in Montana to both Harvey and Anaconda Copper, apparently on the theory that two wrongs make a right. For Anaconda wire and copper had a far worse war record than Harvey.

Furthermore, Olin Industries, also, under consideration for the aluminum contract, likewise had a worse record than Harvey.

Anaconda Record—Anaconda wire and cable, one of the largest Anaconda subsidiaries, was twice convicted for war frauds and sabotage in selling faulty wire to the army, navy and air force.

Alex Campbell, U. S. attorney who prosecuted Anaconda at Ft. Wayne, Ind., states that Anaconda's inspectors had pretended to test wire and passed it on to army and navy inspectors with an O. K. tag on it—though actually it was not inspected.

New Invention Shrinks Shrimp Price, While Most Protein Foods Hit Highs

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor
NEW ORLEANS — (NEA) — Not all essential foods have gone up in price.

One reason is that a young man in rubber boots accidentally stepped on a few shrimp on a cannery floor in Houma, La., often called the shrimp capital of the world. He examined the result. The shell adhered to the rubber of his sole, but the tender shrimp itself slipped away.

The outcome of this discovery is the first successful mechanical shrimp peeler. Perfected after seven years of trial and error, it is today materially helping to bring down the price of a first-class protein food at a time when most other protein foods are skyrocketing. It also is releasing several thousand needed workers to the Louisiana defense industries.

Although beef steak is America's favorite source of first-class protein, in view of the current meat situation this price drop in another first-class protein, nutritionally just as valuable, has economic significance.

The human body must have protein to live and the shrinking food dollar is forcing Americans to seek more of their protein in foods heretofore only occasionally used in their menus. That is why the boy in the rubber boots has become a symbol of the part science can play in our present battle with the cost of living.

Today, the wholesale price of a dozen cans of medium size shrimp is $3.25. Last year, it was $4.00, and in 1948 it was $4.50. A pound of canned shrimp costs $1.02 and provides 81.6 grams of protein as compared to a pound of beef sirloin which costs $1.18 and provides only 74.8 grams of protein.

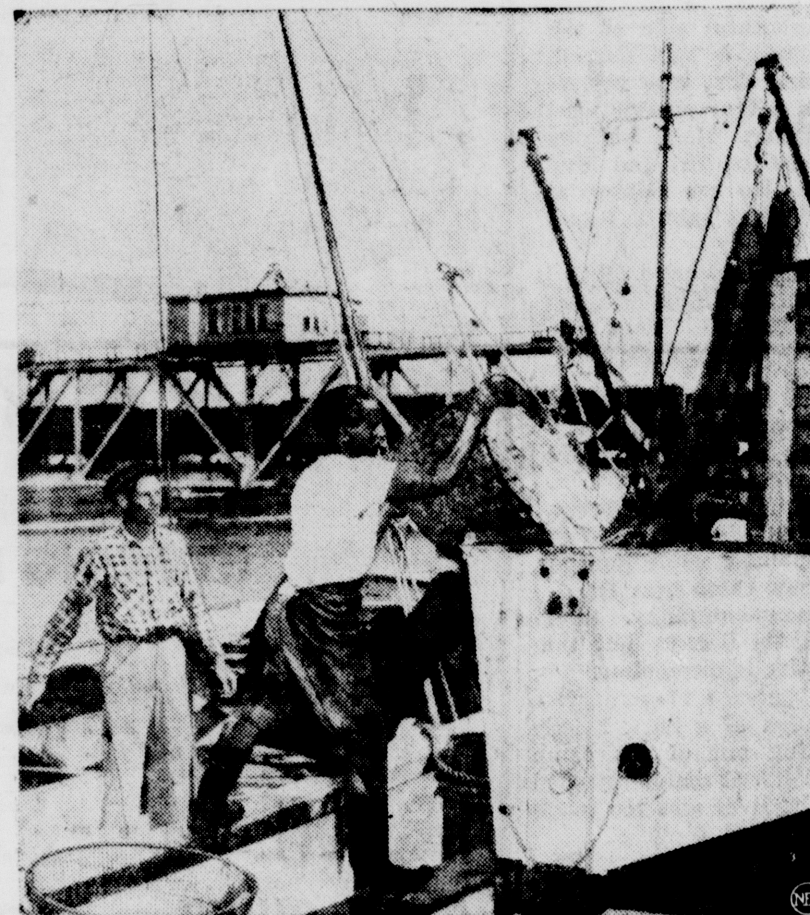

Before driving out to Houma, I talked with Fernand S. Lapeyre, vice president and general manager of the family corporation which developed the boot-on-shrimp principal into the highly successful machine being used today in many of the biggest shrimp canneries and freezing plants in the world.

He is a tall, soft spoken, patient young man, the ninth of 11 children, of Italian, French and Spanish descent and a graduate of Tulane University. He has been inventing things all his life. When his nephew discovered that the shell of a shrimp would cling to rubber while the meat slipped away, Lapeyre started on his biggest invention. He began by putting shrimp through the rubber rollers of the family wringer. That was in 1944.

"I started working on a commercial peeler in a shed behind our house," he told me. "I had never worked with shrimp before, although my brothers have a cannery in Houma. My wife said the smell from the shed was pretty trying, but she stuck by me."

Two years later, when the machine had reached a preliminary state, they moved it 60 miles up the Mississippi.

"But we didn't dare put it into my brothers' factory then," Lapeyre explained. "We were fearful of labor. Our machine was going to take a lot of hand pickers off the payroll and they knew it. Also, it was yet far from perfect. It still caused a lot of mutilation to the shrimp. But we kept on struggling."

SHRIMP BOAT COMES IN: Crew members of a large deep-water trawler unload Gulf shrimp onto the inspection belt at Houma, La., from which it will go to the mechanical peeler.

By 1948 they had a fairly satisfactory model and moved into the plant. In 1949 they built a second and better machine, and had orders from other packers for seven more. Today, they have 30 in operation and six more are being built. The machines cost $7000 to build and are leased, not sold.

"However, the rearmament program may slow down our progress," he explained. "We use aluminum because it is corrosive resistant. Our supply may be cut."

I watched the baskets of shrimp being swung off the trawlers alongside the dock and taken into the plant. They are inspected and washed and then conveyed to tanks filled with water. A pad-dle gently urges them into the peeling machine, an intricate-looking contraption of many rubber-covered rollers of various sizes. By the time the shrimp have reached the end of their journey, practically every particle of shell, including head and tail, even shell on the tiny legs, has been removed. Yet the body is unbroken.

Lapeyre estimates the machine replaces from 15 to 30 hand peelers depending on the size of the shrimp. Small shrimp, considered the sweetest, take a much longer time to peel by hand than large ones.

The mechanical peeler also gets from five to 10 per cent more unbroken meat from the shell than by hand. Therefore, a processor can get from five to 10 pounds more shrimp a barrel by using the mechanical peeler.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

TREKKING SNOW—Newspapers of Northern Michigan have in the past few days reported at length concerning the opening of the deer hunting season.

Typical of these stories is the following: "The annual influx of red-coated nimrods, trekking northward in pursuit of the elusive quarry, presages the opening of another deer season."

As used loosely by the newspapers, the above means that deer hunters are traveling to the woods.

Red-coated nimrods are hunters, trekking is traveling, and elusive quarry is deer—not a lost limestone pit.

OTHER DEFINITIONS—With assistance of Mr. Webster's dictionary suppose we take a further look at definitions of these well-worn cliché makers.

Trekking, says the dictionary, means to travel to a new home in a six-wheeled wagon pulled by oxen. The word comes from South Africa, not Northern Michigan.

And if the trekkers make a trekpath, that path is a rough one over which goats, cattle and other farm animals are driven. It is not a public road.

Nimrod, if you have forgotten your scripture, was a son of Cush, described in Gen. x. 8-10 as a mighty hunter and ruler; hence it means tyrant or hunter but its use is obsolete, says the dictionary.

Quarry has a couple meanings, including hole in the ground. That is where writers should bury the treks and nimrods.

JUST QUIBBLING—Believing that English is a growing language, we have some hunting season words to offer—complete with definitions.

If they have changed in aspect from original meaning, remember that trekking hunters no longer travel by ox team in a six-wheeled wagon.

Making a drive once meant that group of hunters surrounded a swamp and drove out the deer while others shot at them. The new meaning is a trip to town for more beer.

Still hunting (once meaning to move quietly) is what they now do when they do not get a buck.

Breakfast in camp means a soggy pancake and a cup of clorox.

And taking a tramp in the woods is frowned upon unless the tramp wears a red jacket.

FILLING THE LICENSE—Newspaper reporters in deer season finally reach an impasse in trying to vary the announcement that Joe Blow shot and killed a buck.

Joe downed, bagged, dropped and felled the deer—and he also filled his license. But just to make a simple and forthright statement that Joe shot a deer reveals lack of imagination.

EMPHASIS REVERSED—As the deer season advances the news from the woods changes from how many deer were shot to how many hunters have been killed.

This is a natural development and is not the responsibility of the newspapers. At first the interest is on hunting conditions, traffic at the Straits, and the deer kill.

Once the season is well under way and reports on the number of humans killed and wounded begins to roll in, the accent is on that phase of the sport. And then when the season is over there will be one last story appearing in the newspapers:

"Thousands of deer hunters joined the exodus from Michigan's north woods today following a season in which (blank) persons were killed and (blank) wounded."

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

KNOW HOW TO PICK THE EXACT WORD

A group of words often used as if they had the same meaning includes apt, likely, liable and prone. Because there is an element of chance that clings to each, some cautious people, not certain of the differences in meaning, carelessly substitute "probable" or "probably" for any one of them. These latter words have their good uses, to be sure, but a person seeking power with words does not content himself with weak substitutes when more exact words are at hand.

When there is a natural tendency for a certain action to take place, or when an action resulting from custom or habit may be predicted with more or less confidence, one properly uses "apt." "Dry wood is apt to burn," for such is the nature of wood; "Peter is apt to neglect his chores," for Peter usually forgets; "Sarah is apt to catch cold," for Sarah is subject to colds.

"Likely" is slightly weaker than "apt." It carries less confidence. We say, "The bus is likely to come along any minute," for we know that the bus is due to arrive, but is often behind schedule; "he is likely to run for a second term," when it seems probable, but is not certain, that the person indicated will again be a candidate; "it is likely to rain," for the appearance of the clouds indicates a possibility of rain. "Likely" may be substituted for "apt" and still make sense, but the note of reasonably safe prediction is then lost and one of uncertainty is introduced.

"Liable" is properly used only when there is a strong possibility of an unfavorable or unfortunate result. Through frequent use in courts of law, it often conveys a thought of legal consequences; as, "liable to arrest." But one would also say, "The driver who weaves out of line in heavy traffic is liable to accident," for such a driver exposes himself and others to danger. "One who leaves a sharp knife within reach of a child is liable to blame," for there is again strong possibility of misfortune.

An optimist is any man who dares to eat blackberry pie while wearing an ice cream suit.

Most any person can really measure up if the golden rule is always used.

A perfect example of minority rule is a new baby in the house.

Yugoslav Arms Program Needs U. S. Supervision

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (NEA) — The military aid pact just signed by the United States and Yugoslavia, under which Marshal Tito's anti-Soviet forces will get modern American weapons, points up a puzzle. It is: just how much security are the U. S., Britain and France buying in Yugoslavia?

Military planners at General Eisenhower's headquarters feel that Marshal Tito's forces are worth an investment. They were good guerrilla fighters in World War II. How good a modern army they may be is something else again. And the Yugoslav economy supporting them may be pretty much of a hollow shell.

Before the new pact was signed in Belgrade, Marshal Tito had said that he could take care of his forces on small arms and ammunition, but he wanted heavy artillery, tanks and planes from the United States. He wanted these arms without any strings tied to them and said he would make no concessions to the Western powers to gain their assistance.

But the aid he will get will have strings on it, because the pact provides for an American mission at Belgrade that will check on the use made of whatever material we give him. Also Tito made concessions—at least to the extent of making available to the U. S. raw and semi-processed materials Yugoslavia has for export.

There is another side to this question, however, from the U. S. viewpoint. There is a parallel of American experience in giving aid to Turkey. At the start of the Truman doctrine, the U. S. planned merely to turn over to Turkey tanks and heavy artillery, without supervision.

Build Roads For Turks
But it was soon found that Turkey had no road system capable of carrying gasoline and ammunition to the northern Turkish borders, to support mechanized forces. So the first requirement was to help the Turks build a modern road system.

Then it was found that the Turks had no mechanics capable of repairing motorized equipment. So a training system and military schools had to be established, with American instructors in Turkey and Turkish instructors sent to the U. S. for specialized training.

Yugoslavia today has no road system capable of carrying heavy artillery, tanks or supply trucks. And while American-made automobiles dash madly about the streets of drab, Slav Belgrade, mechanics capable of repairing motorized military equipment are few.

It is now three years since Tito broke with the Russians. Last year Yugoslavia suffered from a severe drought. It may have cost the country as much as $100 million in loss of food export sales, as well as internal suffering which U. S. food loans helped to relieve. This year's crops were good.

All prices and all wages are paid in a complex system of coupons, bonds, and discounts. Tags on clothing and shoes in the store windows bear three prices — the full price in dinars, 85 per cent discount and 60 per cent discount.

Value of the dinar is from an official rate of 50 to the dollar to an easily obtained black market rate of 400 to the dollar.

Living Costs Are High
Tourists have a supplementary currency in putniks, worth 50 to the dollar. They pay half the price in dinars and half in putniks. Americans stationed in Belgrade who abide by the official exchange rates find that eggs are worth 40 cents apiece, bread the equivalent of $1 a pound. There is inflation all over the place.

What all this seems to add up to is that the Yugoslav government and economy are in need of a thorough overhaul before they can be considered a good investment. The Tito government had planned some wage and price reforms to be effective in November, but they have been delayed till January.

How successful the Tito government has been in its efforts to collectivize the farms is another great mystery. There has unquestionably been much local opposition. And Tito himself admits that there have been failures due to lack of machinery, bad planning, bad management and sabotage.

In spite of all these drawbacks, the resources of the country are admittedly enormous. There are rich farm areas like Iowa, copper, lead, bauxite, timber and other resources. The top men of government are all young partisans, devoted to the idea of making their country a rich and powerful Communist state.

But without plenty of outside technical assistance and know-how, they face an almost impossible task. It would be no surprise to many on the spot observers in Belgrade if the economy collapsed, any day.

Cow Breaks Record; Party In Her Honor At Elsie High School

ELSIE, Mich. — (AP) — Green Meadow Lily Pabst is going to have a party, a very fancy affair with engraved invitations and all. Its a reward, apparently, for being a mighty good girl, and a very productive one.

Friends of this small Clinton county community got these engraved invitations:

"Mr. and Mrs. Merle H. Green and sons request the pleasure of your presence at a banquet Monday evening, Dec. 3, 1951, at 7 o'clock at the Elsie high school auditorium, honoring Green Meadow Lily Pabst, who on this date completes 365 days of milk production, which breaks all world's records, including all breeds and classifications."

Well done, Green Meadow Lily Pabst.

Dobbin Disappearing Throughout Country

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dobbin's popularity definitely appears to be waning—even in Minnesota's Otter Tail county.

Otter Tail's horse population was the heaviest of any county in the United States in the 1945 census of agriculture. The Census Bureau reported here that between 1945 and 1950, the county's horse inventory dropped from 19,399 to 10,099. Meanwhile, tractors increased from 3,939 to 6,184.

Fish Eating Horses; They Have The Habit

EDMONTON, Alta. — (AP) — John Kaasa has proof that at least two horses in the Northwest Territories prefer eating fish to hay.

series showing two big, white horses eating, with apparent gusto, a pair of fish.

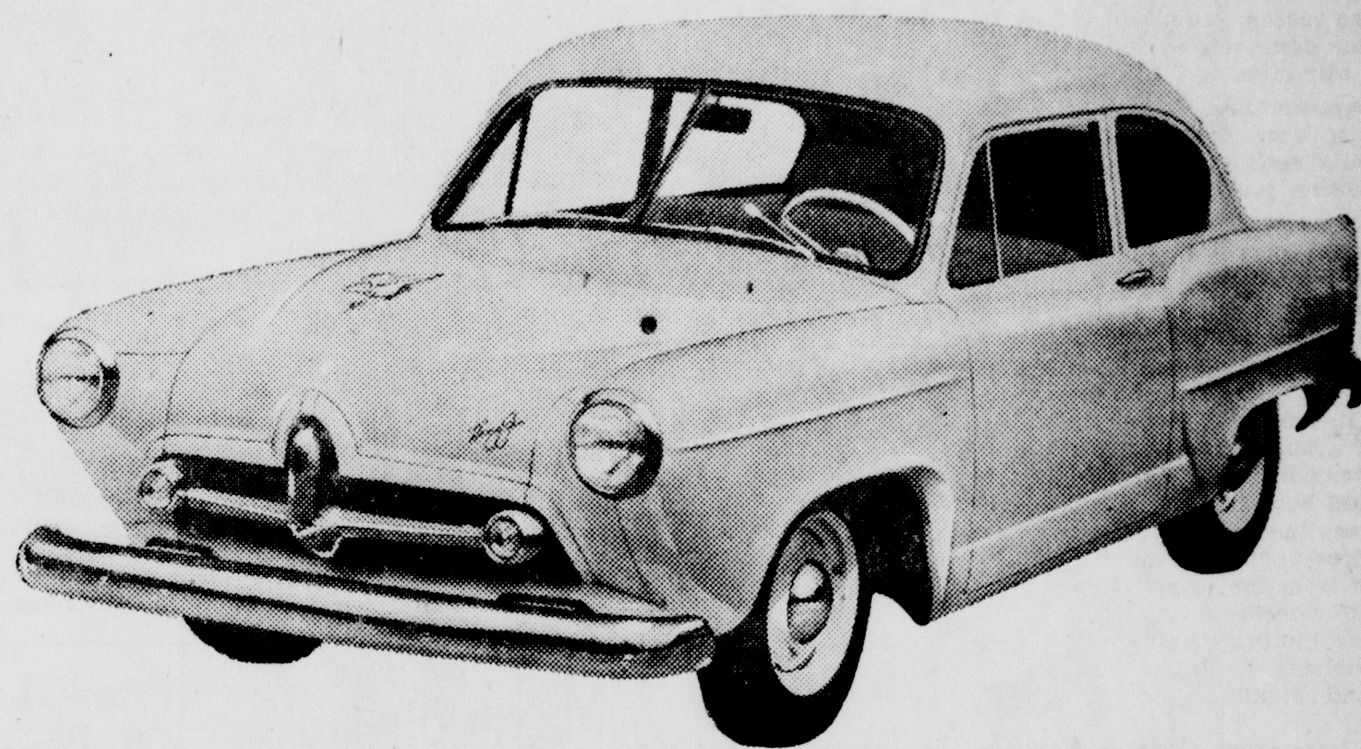

"This fish-eating is sort of a habit with the horses—like smoking," Mr. Kaasa said. "They can't get enough. When the Indians hang out their fish for drying and curing, the horses will come along, pull them down and eat them."

New Hump For REA Expected Shortly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration thinks it is over one hump, but expects another shortly. It thinks the peak has been reached in the installation of new lines. Last fiscal year 117,000 miles were put into use. This was a drop of 35 per cent from the previous year. The new hump is expected in the amount of power delivered to existing lines. It is explained that most farms are now on power lines. But in many cases, farms on the lines do not yet have a full quota of appliances. The amount of power delivered took a 25 per cent jump last year and has doubled since 1948.

Bear Hunting Better In U. P.

Expect 1,000 To Be Killed In State

While the deer will be the major hunting target in the Nov. 15-30 big game season, brunt will be getting some deer as well as incidental attention.

Most bears are shot by hunters incidental to deer stalking but a few specially seek out the creature in hunting jaunts.

There are upwards of 5,000 bears in Michigan, according to best conservation department estimate.

If the fall bag is close to that of the last ten-year annual average, about 1,000 will be taken. Highest kill—since 1937 when first computed kill figures were available—was about 1,700 in 1947.

The hunter who wants a crack at brunt would have his best opportunity across the Straits. Approximately three-quarters of the bear population is in the upper peninsula. Better northern lower peninsula bear hunting territory includes Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Alpena and Montmorency counties.

Biggest bear ever taken with bow and arrow or gun was shot by archer Dean P. Loveless of Hamtramck last fall near Newberry. The giant dressed out at 555 pounds, computed full weight was 632 pounds.

Would-Be Assassin Of Truman Tries To Escape Death Chair

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Oscar Collazo makes a new bid today to escape execution for his role in a fantastic attempt last year to assassinate President Truman.

The U. S. Court of appeals called for arguments (10:30 a. m. EST) on the appeal of the 37-year-old Puerto Rican Nationalist from his conviction and death sentence for the slaying of a White House policeman.

The task of trying to convince the appeals court that Collazo's conviction should be set aside and a new trial ordered fell to Leo A. Rover, a one-time U. S. attorney here.

$906 Profit Made On Minstrel Show By Kiwanis Club

Total receipts from the staging of the 1951 Kiwanis Minstrel were $2,131 and the estimated profit is $906, Harry J. Gruber, ticket committee chairman, reported to the club at its luncheon meeting this noon.

Expenses incurred in staging the show totaled $850 and the federal admission tax was $375. Gruber said there is a possibility the tax would be refunded in view of the fact that the money will be used for youth welfare purposes.

Ted Rouman and Gerald Olson, students of the Escanaba senior high school, gave reports on the Older Boys Conference held in Manistique recently. They were introduced by William Jensen, program chairman.

Ladies Night will be held by the Kiwanis club at the House of Ludington next Monday evening, Nov. 26. James H. Jackson is the program chairman for the event.

Michigan Gets $16,708,787 In US Highway Aid

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The state-by-state share of the half billion federal highway aid fund for fiscal year 1952 was announced yesterday by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. New York gets the most, Vermont the least.

Under the Federal Aid Highway Act approved Sept. 7, $225,000,000 was set aside for projects on the federal-aid highway system, $150,000,000 for the secondary road system, and $125,000,000 for urban areas.

New York's share amounts to $30,724,302, closely followed by $29,581,979 for Texas. Vermont's share was $1,993,186.

Sawyer said the past practice of spending money under the supervision of the Bureau of Public Roads will be followed. State highway departments propose projects, prepare plans, award contracts, and oversee construction, all subject to federal approval.

Federal participation is limited to half the cost, except in states having public lands. In these states, federal aid may be boosted under certain conditions.

Michigan, under the allocation, is to receive $16,708,787 of this, $6,877,365 is to go for major highways (federal aid roads); $4,196,989 for secondary roads; and $5,634,433 for urban roads.

Frank Lauscher Of Powers Dies, Funeral Tuesday

Frank J. Lauscher, 59, of Powers, died Saturday following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Lauscher who was a carpenter and contractor, employed by the Michigan State Highway Department up to the time of his illness, was born in Casco, Wis., April 11, 1892. He married the former Emma Kessler at Algoma in June of 1915 and they moved to Powers the following year. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier church of Spalding.

Surviving are his wife, one son, Lester of Hermansville, one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Murray of Spalding, ten grandchildren, two brothers, Herbert and Peter of Kewaunee, Wis., and one sister, Mrs. William Bruening of Milwaukee.

Services will be conducted by Father Bernard Karol at 9 Tuesday at St. Francis Xavier church and burial will be in Spalding cemetery. The body is at the Boyle funeral home in Bark River and the rosary will be recited there at 8 this evening.

Gradual Slashing Of Arms Is Aim Of 3-Power Proposal which has so often blocked the council.

The commission would draw up, for submission to the world conference, treaties for the "regulation, limitation and balanced reduction of all armed forces and all armaments."

Inventories Big Problem
Russia on Friday proposed that a similar 12-nation commission start work at once on the inspection and control of all weapons. It called for the commission to report to the security council by Feb. 1, 1952—presumably within the life of the current assembly.

The western plan set no date for the calling of the disarmament conference, leaving that to the preparatory commission. Russia previously had proposed such a conference be held before June 1, 1952.

Under the Big Three's plan, the present U. N. conventional armaments and Atomic Energy commissions would be dissolved and their work taken over by the disarmament commission.

The west reiterated its insistence that the world's arms stockpiles must be inventoried and a foolproof inspection provided of the arms reduction process. The resolution called for "progressive disclosure and verification on a continuing basis of all armed forces—including para-military, security and police forces—and all armaments, including atomic."

Junior Class To Give Play At Powers Hall

POWERS—The junior class of the Powers-Spalding high school will present a play, which is to be held December 2, at the Powers hall.

The title of this three-act farce comedy is: "The Nutt Family."

The play is centered around Crestdale, where the Nutt family had moved into a home which had been occupied by Dr. See, who had a sanitarium for people who were mentally ill. Some of Dr. See's former patients show up, thinking that Dr. See still had the sanitarium and end up in hilarious situations with the Nutt family.

John Henderson plays the leading role, supported by Marian Page, Donald Bellefeuil and Helen Andrews. Others included in the cast are: Marilyn Walechka, Beverly Priot, Bertha Prestay, Bernice McNeely, Mary McClenning, Shirley Betters, Shirley Luft, William Wells, and Donald O'Neill.

The play is under the direction of Robert H. Seering and Gerald B. Anzalone.

Senator Hunts Tax Racketeers

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Williams (R-Del.) is starting his own search for tax collection scandals. He'll concentrate on "five or six of the top racketeers of the country," he said today.

Williams, who is credited by his Republican colleagues with setting off the current house probe of scandals in the federal revenue gathering service, said yesterday he will demand still deeper digging.

He followed this with today's disclosure that he's doing some digging of his own into the tax cases of some big-time criminals. He wouldn't reveal their names, he said, for "fear of tipping them off to cover up, or possible loss of government records involving them."

"I'm making a detailed case study of just how they were treated on tax returns, collections and prosecutions by federal tax officials," Williams told a reporter. "There has been a lot of criticism and rumor about preferential treatment of these racketeers by tax officials. I have asked treasury officials for full details on these cases."

Flint Huntress Gets Lady Buck

IRONWOOD, Mich. — (AP) — If there are any hen-pecked gentlemen deer around Lake Gogebic—it's no wonder.

But they can relax now. A 190-pound lady deer, sporting a rack of antlers with ten-count 'em, ten—points on it was shot this weekend by Mrs. Mamie Cone of Flint.

Unfortunately, Michigan's hunting season is for buck deer only. Wardens opined unofficially, though, that Mrs. Cone's mistake was understandable.

Turkey Seals Border To Stop Bulgarian Reds From Sneaking In

ANKARA, Turkey — (AP) — The foreign office revealed last night that Turkey closed her border with Bulgaria a week ago because suspected Red agents were being sneaked across the line. Bulgaria has protested the action, announced in a Turkish note.

The frontier was sealed when reports spread that Communists, many equipped with radio transmitters, were being slipped into Turkey. One report said the suspected agents were disguised as Moslems of Turkish descent. Many such persons recently have been transferred to Turkey.

In reply to Bulgaria's protest, Turkey said that should "the motives which made this decision necessary disappear, the decision could be revoked."

Home Offered To 11 Orphans

PONTIAC, Mich. — (AP) — Nearby Leonard's now famous orphans, the 11 Moore children, had a renewed offer of adoption today.

The children, who decided last week they would like to stay in their nine-room home with their grandparents, were asked again if they wouldn't like to be part of the family of a well-off Detroit businessman.

The would-be foster father made his offer earlier through a Detroit priest, the Reverend Father Carleson Robideau.

The second offer also was voiced by the priest, who said he would not publicly identify the businessman "unless the offer is accepted."

"But the man is financially capable of caring for 11 children," Father Robideau said. "His home is large enough to house them comfortably, too."

The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore, died in a traffic crash near here Nov. 10. Probate court named their ma-

Now! Get a Turkey That's Guaranteed To Be The Finest

By MARY MANNING

Be sure your turkey is perfect. Get a FAIRMONT "Registered-Guaranteed" TURKEY! I personally recommend and guarantee it will be the finest turkey you can buy or every cent you paid will be refunded.

It's moist! Tender! Meaty! Every bird is young, plump and brood-breasted. Just what you want to make your dinner a success!

Saves you time and work, too. For your FAIRMONT Turkey is READY TO ROAST. It's perfectly cleaned, giblets wrapped separately and placed inside. Complete stuffing, trussing and cooking instructions come with every bird. All you do is stuff it and roast.

FAIRMONT TURKEYS come in a variety of weights from five to 27 pounds. But, be sure to order early so you get the size you require.

Place your order for a FAIRMONT "Registered-Guaranteed" TURKEY at your earliest convenience. Don't depend on luck for a fine bird. The less experienced you are in judging poultry, the more you need the assurance of this "Registered-Guaranteed" seal.

Whatever you choose in poultry—a duck, goose, capon, chicken, or a turkey—it's FAIRMONT, you know it's the finest.

Hillbilly Songs Make Dough For Bob Merrill

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—There has always been a streak of maverick in me which admires mavericks, and although I would like to smash the medium that carries this maverick's wares to the nation—I refer to the juke-box—I got to admire a brash young rascal named Bob Merrill for taking strong hold of his life and bending it around to suit him.

Merrill is a carrotty-haired young lout who has recently made himself a lot of fame and more money as a writer of the semi-hillbilly, or multiple-averse hit tune, which gurgles from every juke box in the land. That he is the top songwriter, from a popularity standpoint, over the last year or so does not surprise him. It also does not surprise him that he cannot read music, or play an instrument, or write music.

He's No Hillbilly
In the last couple of years he has assaulted the national ear with such as "If I Knew You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Cake," "Candy N' Cake," and "Belle, Belle, My Liberty Belle," "Let Me In," "Sparrow In the Treetop," "My Truly, Truly Fair." Most of them carry the hill-billy wheeze, which seems so vital to success in the tavern juke organs and radio platter programs.

Merrill is about as much of a hillbilly as Summer Wells. Bob was born in Philadelphia of moderately wealthy parents. He has worked mainly in New York and Hollywood. He lives in a fancy penthouse in New York. He has been an actor and a soldier and a dishwasher and a hitchhiker and a porter and a radio writer and a movie director. But he has turned that Tennessee twang into a young mint . . . Only because he watched the phenomenal success of a horror called "Goodnight Irene" and decided there was money in lugubrious corn.

I would say there is a broad swath of ham in young Mr. Merrill, who recently turned congressional hearing of ASCAP, the songwriters' protective association, against the juke interests, into a minor sort of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" epic. Merrill got up to testify, threw away the script, and invoked everything from the ghost of Betsy Ross to the Memory of Abe Lincoln into ASCAP's effort to wrest a weekly-penny-per-side-per-recording from the juke owners.

Often Played Truant
He also ran away from home at the tender age of four, carrying only a loaf of bread and a bottle of catsup. His musical training ended rather abruptly then, when his harassed mama busted his junior-grade fiddle, he says, over his truant backside. He and the truant officer eventually became close friends, since he took off for far parts of an average of once a month during his adolescence, and there was plenty of close association between them.

Merrill once worked around New York for a whole year on an average of $6 per week, and was finally taken to the hospital with a case of acute malnutrition. All the time he might have gone home to his folks, but stubbornly refused. He knew he wanted something, but it wasn't located in Philadelphia.

Wrote For Movies
He was a sweeping porter in CBS's Hollywood offices in 1945. "I took my lunch hour one day," says he. "I put on my blue suit and pearl-gray tie and went over to NBC. I told 'em I was a writer. I got a job as a writer, and three weeks later I was supervisor of writers. I was fired out of that into a director's job at Columbia Pictures, and made a flock of B's.

Westerns, and then was dialogue director in a lot of A's. But I still wanted to be a songwriter, so after three years of Hollywood I became a songwriter."

Merrill is working at a variety of things, such as being consultant on the Perry Como show, ripping out a succession of juke-box smash hits, and yearning secretly, as his hits, and yearning secretly, as he penthouse. To write some serious long-haired music on the $1.98 xylophone on which he taps out his ersatz folk songs. Wouldn't surprise me if he did, either, because at the rates the money rolls in, he will have plenty of leisure to grow long hair and think noble thoughts.

Grand Marais

GRAND MARAIS—Mr. and Mrs. William Smink of Detroit are here for the deer season. They are the guests of Fred Masse. Edward Muzzie, mayor of Imlay City and Mr. Spencer and son Chuck, Mr. MacDonald and son Johnnie, Howard Penzing and Walter Rogers all in the same party are deer hunting here. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour.

Wesley Howard and Stanley Powers of Detroit are here for the deer season. They are guests at the James Buckland home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ayers and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Powell of Adrian, Mich. are spending the deer season here. Mrs. Powell bagged a twelve-point buck on her first day out. They are staying at one of the Lee cottages at East Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and Mrs. Russell Hild of Newberry were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour Sunday.

Dog Inherits Estate From Blind Master

PERTH — (AP) — A 79-year-old blind man, whose dog had led him around for the greater part of his life, has left his estate for the upkeep of the animal until he dies.

"For many years I have been faithful companion to me," Howard Hope Hills wrote in his will.

Ten-year-old Toby has now been provided with enough money per week for his expensive tastes in rump steak, crayfish, pies and cakes.

'Blind Justice' Not Funny To This Man
ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Justice has always been described as blind. And Laverne Crawford is willing to concede that fact, although not in the usual sense.

Crawford, a truck driver, was a witness to a shooting here recently. But since he can't raise enough money for bond, he is being held in jail as a material witness. It may be six months before the case is completed.

The accused slayer, meanwhile, is out of jail—free under $15,000 bond.

It is a sign of wisdom rather than weakness for executives to seek outside management assistance

Corporal Jacob C. Brodersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Brodersen of Ralph, was separated from the Army today at the newly established separation and reassignment center at Camp McCoy.

Cpl. Brodersen, a member of the Enlisted Reserve Corps, has been a military policeman since his recall to duty.

He is one of the approximately 80,000 reservists now returned home by the Army.

Master Sergeant Seth L. Burklund, son of Mrs. Edith W. Burklund of 606 South 10th street, Escanaba, Michigan, has been assigned to headquarters of the new Technical Training Air Force (TTAF) at Gulfport, Miss.

Sergeant Burklund is serving in the aircraft maintenance section of TTAF, which operates the 10 major USAF technical training schools and indoctrination centers, in addition to more than 50 student squadrons located at civilian educational institutions throughout the country. At TTAF bases are stationed one-fifth of the total Air Force personnel.

Born in Dagget, Michigan, Sergeant Burklund entered the service in March 1941 in Wausau, Michigan. He arrived here from

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights
When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Armed Forces Seek Enlistees In This Area

The Army and Air Force opened fire on the Escanaba area today.

The target: enlistment of young women in the Services. The ammunition: information on career opportunities for women in the Armed Forces.

Cpl. Marion J. Kurta in charge of Army-Air Force recruiting for women here, said Escanaba would be an important sector in a nationwide campaign to recruit 72,000 qualified young women for the Armed Forces by the end of June, 1952. Messages and addresses by national leaders, including President Truman, are opening the campaign this week.

The Air Force, Cpl. Kurta said, seeks an additional 38,299 enlisted women and 3,397 more women officers for Women in the Air Force (WAF). The Women's Army Corps (WAC) has a goal of at least 18,819 more enlisted women and 925 officers to boost its overall strength to 32,000.

Openings also exist, for specially trained women, in the Army Nurse Corps, Air Force Nurse Corps and the Women's Medical Specialists Corps.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, said at Washington, D. C., that the recruiting goals are not ceilings.

"We will take all the qualified women we can get," Mrs. Rosenberg said. "We will give them equality, opportunity and promotion with the men with whom they serve."

Enlistments in the WAC and WAF are open to qualified women between 18 and 34 years old, inclusive. Age brackets for officers vary. Cpl. Kurta said additional information was available at the Army-Air Force Recruiting Station at 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba.

VICTORIA, B. C. — (AP) — British Columbia's apple crop this year is estimated at 6,705,930 boxes, a drop of 23 per cent from last year's harvest. Adverse weather conditions were chiefly responsible for the decline.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, said at Washington, D. C., that the recruiting goals are not ceilings.

Prize Cattle Train Loaded

Going From Iowa
To Chicago Show

SCHLESWIG, Iowa—A million and a half dollars worth of prize cattle are being loaded in this area today on the "Blue Ribbon Special" live stock train of the Chicago and North Western Railway which will make its annual run tonight to Chicago's International Live Stock Exposition.

Comprised of some sixty-eight carloads of prime animals in what is probably the largest single shipment to the exposition, the train is unique in that it also carries three Pullman sleeping cars for the accommodation of the cattle owners who travel with their stock right to the doors of the exposition. Approximately sixty ranchers and cowboys will travel with the train. Approximately 1300 animals are involved or more than 1,560,000 pounds of meat "on the hoof."

Cattle aboard the train originate in the famous "feeder" area of Iowa which includes Schleswig, Odebolt, Arthur, Ida Grove and other nearby points. The "Blue Ribbon Special" which has been an annual train since the earliest days of the International Exposition, draws its name from the consistency over the years with which its quadruped passengers have won top honors.

The special train is scheduled to arrive at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago Tuesday morning. The Exposition will open Saturday, November 24.

Chimp Is A Flop In Debut At Zoo

CALGARY—(AP)—Joey is a bit of a disappointment at the Calgary Zoo. A chimpanzee, Joey doesn't do any of the things chimps are expected to do, and zoo officials think he's plain chump, not chimp. The three-year-old seems to have a decided inferiority complex.

Since his arrival last January, Joey has fooled everybody. He won't be dressed up, drink out of paper cups, or peel oranges. The only thing he's worn up to now is a slightly sarcastic expression.

He was obtained from a Florida zoo and was supposed to be a trained chimp. Zoo officials believe the long train ride may have given him a sort of animal amnesia. But maybe he's just a cynic at heart.

Middleweight contender Randy Turpin is partially deaf as a result of a swimming accident suffered as a youth.

Big Trout Dies Of Old Age In Missouri

CASSVILLE, Mo.—(AP)—Here's a case where the fish really was smarter than the fishermen.

A 9½-pound rainbow trout was found dead at Roaring River state park near here, recently. Thousands fish the trout water there every year.

A. G. Morrie of the state conservation commission diagnosed it as death of old age.

When Mean Colds
Stuff You Up

It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way... with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package. Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back.

Birthday Party
Mrs. Edward LaMarche, Escanaba Route One, was pleasantly surprised at her home Sunday afternoon when relatives and friends gathered to celebrate her birthday anniversary. Arrangements for the party were made by Mrs. Omer Dupont. Cards were followed by a party lunch with a yellow and white cake centering the table. Attending in addition to Mrs. LaMarche's family, were her mother, Mrs. Valerie Dupont, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dupont, Mrs. Delia Gardner, Mrs. Dora Chouinard, Mrs. Lucille Guay, Mrs. Roy Bedard, Mrs. Thomas Bedard and Mrs. Louis Viau and daughter, Gloria. Mrs. LaMarche was presented with a number of lovely gifts.

Delta Bridge League
Considerable interest was shown in the Delta Bridge League's first regular session following the 16th annual open pair tournament and in spite of loss of attendance due to deer hunting season the turnout was almost normal. The play was characterized by many hands requiring delicate handling with bidding and play depending to a great extent upon the aggressiveness or passivity of the pairs competing and results in some cases were extreme in range.

Results of the session were:
1. Mrs. J. W. Ferguson-Mrs. Joseph Shipman 49½
2. Mrs. L. P. Treiber-Mrs. John Lemmer 45½
3. Mrs. John Card-Mrs. J. S. Sword 44

CARE FOR KOREA—A check for $1100, representing the first contributions to the General Federation of Women's Clubs CARE-FOR-KOREA Campaign, is turned over to Frank Goffio, head of the CARE Donor Division, by Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, President of the General Federation. Witnessing the presentation at President headquarters in Washington, D. C., are (rear), Mrs. Charles Butler, Chairman of Projects for the GFWC, and Madame Yang, wife of the Korean Ambassador to the U. S.

Women's Clubs throughout the country are appealing for public support of the fund campaign, which ends Thanksgiving Day. All contributions will be used to provide CARE packages of needed food and textile supplies for war orphans and refugees in South Korea. Donations in Escanaba may be sent to CARE-FOR-KOREA, c/o Miss Josephine Ryan.

MDCCW Fun-Shop Conference Held At Marygrove

Forty women, braving ice, sleet and snow, came from all sections of the Upper Peninsula to be present at the "Fun-Shop" for the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women held at Marygrove Retreat House at Garden Saturday, November 17.

The meeting opened with a luncheon at one at which Mrs. John Root of Escanaba, diocesan president, presided. In her speech of welcome Mrs. Root thanked the women for showing their great interest and zeal in their various activities and complimented the Houghton, Iron Mountain and Escanaba Deaneary chairmen on having 100 per cent attendance.

After the luncheon Mrs. Corbin Eddy of Houghton, chairman of organization and development, conducted a general meeting in which all diocesan and Deaneary chairmen participated. Her message to the members stressed applying a friendly approach in working at the parish level and the need for making parish programs "fun programs" as well.

Morale Building Important
"Today there is a great need for lifting the hearts of people," she said. "Friendship, kindness and understanding cannot be emphasized too often if we are going to raise the morale of our fellowmen."

She introduced several methods of approach in spreading Christianity and the moral teachings of the church.

After the general meeting the group broke up into committee groups as follows: mass crusades committee, conducted by Mrs. Tom Beaton of Escanaba; Bishop Baraga, Miss Irma Perkins of Sault Ste. Marie; Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, Mrs. Stack Smith, Escanaba; lay retreats, Mrs. Reynold Anderson, Manistique; libraries and literature, Mrs. R. C. Mahan, Iron River; organization and development, Mrs. Eddy.

Dinner was served at 6 and Father Ronald Bassett gave a short talk during the dinner hour. He placed great stress on the need for closer ties in family life in a spiritual and recreational way.

Cana Conference Program
"The Cana Conference program is an answer to this," he said, "and soon there will be an opportunity for fathers and mothers to make retreats together, conducted by expert retreat masters in the Cana Conference field."

Following dinner movies on square dancing for family participation and the Marygrove Retreat movies were shown.

Those attending the meeting from Escanaba were Mrs. Root,

To fit a candle snugly into its holder, try this trick. Light a kitchen match and carefully hold the flame to the wrong end of the taper, moving it about until the entire base of the candle is soft and drippy. Then extinguish the match, and quickly press the candle into its candlestick. Be sure to arrange it in a perfectly upright position before the wax hardens.

On the panel will be Mrs. Francis Rabito, Mrs. Milton Berg, Martin Becker sr., and Wynand Nieuwenkamp representing parents and Don Olson, Richard Sundling, Roger Tetzner, Patsy Stenac, Teresa Harris and Charles Sarasin, representing students.

Also forming part of the program will be a musical selection which is being arranged by Paul Cowen and a short talk by Miss Helen Marie Schlegel, librarian. Mothers of First Grade pupils will be in charge of the lunch.

Three Persons Hurt In Two Mishaps

GLADSTONE—Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two accidents over the weekend, according to state police of the Gladstone detachment.

Two persons were hurt in an accident that occurred at 2:40 a. m. Sunday on M-35 about two miles south of Perkins. A car driven by Harvey Rasmussen, 26, Gladstone, home on leave from Oscoda Air Force base, overturned on the highway.

Rasmussen and his passenger, Mildred Westerberg of Escanaba, sustained cuts and bruises on the face. They were released after treatment by a Gladstone physician.

The second accident occurred at 6:15 p. m. Sunday on US-41 about five miles north of Rapid River. Ivan D. Johns of Wetmore, meeting an oncoming county road grader during a heavy snowfall, struck the grader blade with his left front wheel and his car swung into the left lane of traffic and collided with a car driven by Thomas C. Morse of Plymouth.

Mrs. Morse sustained a bruised right leg and received treatment in Marquette.

Soo Youth Hurt In Car Collision

John McKay, 20, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., sustained minor injuries to the left elbow when he lost control of an auto he was driving and it skidded into the path of an oncoming semi-tractor on the Whitefish hill on Highway US-2 east of Rapid River about 11:30 Friday night.

Gustav Weide of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, driver of the tractor, was uninjured. According to Michigan State Police, who investigated, the car driven by McKay went into a skid and slid crossways over onto the wrong side of the road and into the path of the tractor, the driver of which was unable to avoid the collision.

McKay sustained abrasions of the left elbow which he self-treated.

McKay was ticketed for driving without an operator's license.

The auto he was driving is owned by Anthony Bonacci of Sault Ste. Marie.

Wrecker Operator Ticketed Saturday For Blocking Road

Ronald Talvitt, 17, of Rapid River, was ticketed by Michigan State Police for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's or chauffeur's license and also for failure to use proper regard with an emergency vehicle for others using the highway.

Theodore Talvitt, Rapid River, father of Ronald, was ordered to report with his son to answer a charge of allowing an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle.

The arrests were the outgrowth of an accident Saturday in which Talvitt's wrecker was struck by a car driven by Michael Finn, 58, Pittsburgh, while Talvitt was attempting to pull an auto from the ditch in the vicinity of the forest ranger station on US-2 east of Rapid River.

Finn came over the crest of a

Carolina Tobacco Struck By Disease

RALEIGH—(AP)—Tar Heel tobacco growers today face one of the "greatest challenges in years, tobacco specialists at North Carolina University say.

Diseases, notably "black shank," have hit the flue-cured crop in North Carolina harder this summer than ever before. A large number of growers tried to get by with non-resistant varieties and in many cases the results were disastrous.

Research is being continued and every effort is being made to find varieties of good quality, good yields, and higher disease resistance. Tobacco experts recommend planting more acres with a strongly resistant variety of tobacco known as "Dixie Bright, 101."

Strohs Keglers Grab Early Lead In World Championship Match

DETROIT—(P)—For the second time in a year, the Stroh bowling team of Detroit has a fine chance to cop the world five-man match game championship.

But to do so, the squad will have to avoid a let-down that meant defeat by the world champ E & B team last March.

Buzz Fazio and his Stroh teammates finished 12-games of week-end bowling last night with a 373 pin edge over the E & B squad.

They will have to keep a firm grip on the advantage next week end when 12 more games conclude the match at the state fairgrounds.

Undefeated, Untied College Grid Teams

NEW YORK — (P)—The list of undefeated, untied college football teams stood at 18—and 12 of them have completed their seasons.

Valparaiso, Northern Illinois and Bucknell finished the season's business with nine victories each. South Dakota Mines, Illinois Wesleyan, Western Maryland, Bloomsburg (Pa.) Teachers, College of Emporia (Kas.) and Lawrence (Wis.) all had eight wins.

Among the major schools still boasting clean slates are Stanford with nine triumphs, Michigan State, Princeton, Tennessee, Maryland and San Francisco with eight each.

Packers Throw Scare Before Losing, 24-13

CHICAGO—(P)—The Green Bay Packers threw a bad scare into Chicago's Bears yesterday, but the co-leaders of the National Football league's National conference battled from behind for a 24-13 victory.

The Packers scored twice in the second period to take a 13-3 margin at one point before 36,771 chilled fans in Wrigley field.

But the Bears, who needed a victory to stay in title contention, came back with a touchdown in each of the last three periods.

Don Mossle went over from the five for the first Green Bay touchdown, and Quarterback Tobin Rote set up the second on an 18-yard spring. Tony Canadeo went the final ten yards.

Chicago's first touchdown, following a first period field goal, climaxed an 89-yard drive. George Gulyanics plunged over.

Julie Rykovich and Steve Romanik scored the other Bear TD's.

Wolverines Out Of Western Conference Football Race

ANN ARBOR—(P)—For the first time in nine years, Michigan today headed for the season-ending clash with Ohio State out of contention for the Western Conference football championship.

The titlists of the last four years' standing were on the outside looking in with a league record of three wins and two losses and an overall mark of 3-5, already the worst Michigan record in 15 years.

The 6-0 loss to Northwestern Saturday tipped the scales on Michigan, which otherwise could have eked out a 5-4 record and a winning season by beating Ohio State.

However, fullback Chuck Hren's 16-yard touchdown blast in the second period and the slick defensive work that maintained that margin throughout the game, threw Michigan into its first losing game since 1936, when the Wolverines lost seven of eight games.

No Punch
Michigan couldn't pull itself out of the doldrums of successive losses to Illinois and Cornell and never found the scoring punch that could have won the game.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's squad moved on the ground, rolling up 244 yards to Northwestern's 156. But they failed where it counted, in scoring territory.

The story of the game was told immediately after Northwestern grabbed a Michigan fumble and moved 53 yards to score in nine plays.

Michigan came back, rolling from the Wolverine 20 to the Northwestern 18, where the alert Wildcat defensive unit, which picked off five Michigan passes during the day, and two Wolverine fumbles, stopped Michigan cold.

Michigan threw back the only other serious Northwestern score, but they couldn't get all the way through Northwestern's defensive unit.

Turned Ankle
Peterson blocked end Norm Kragesth's try for a point after the touchdown and put Michigan in a position for a possible win. But the tying touchdown never came.

Michigan passers, Ted Topor, who turned an ankle in the game, and Mc Donald, managed only 39 yards by completing five of 18 attempts. Don Burson, who quarterbacked the spirited Wildcats, completed the same number on 14 tries for 81 yards.

Northwestern made only two first downs in the second half.

ALL THE WAY—Ollie Matson, six-foot three-inch, 203-pound San Francisco halfback, ran back kickoffs for 95 and 90 yards and touchdowns against Fordham. He has done 100 yards in 9.8. (NEA Photo)

The effects of Topor's injury were not immediately determined. An x-ray check was scheduled.

ing threat on the three-yard line, and four times put together drives of more than 50 yards, with fullback Don Peterson and halfbacks Bill Putich and Wes Bradford chipping off consistent gains.

The Browns now have a 7-1-0 record and the second place Giants 5-2-1. Each has four games left to play, but at the rate the Browns have been going they'll have to collapse completely to lose out.

In other games, the Chicago Cardinals upset the San Francisco 49ers, 27-21; Detroit defeated Philadelphia, 28-10; the Chicago Bears vanquished Green Bay, 24-13; Los Angeles routed the New York Yanks, 48-21, and Washington upended Philadelphia, 22-7.

The victories by the Bears and Rams left them in a tie for the National conference lead, each with 6-2-0. They're followed closely by Detroit with 5-2-1. The Bears have the toughest proposition this week, facing the Browns. Los Angeles plays at Washington while the Lions entertain Green Bay Thanksgiving Day.

Four Teams Assured Of Grid Bowl Games

NEW YORK—(P)—The 1951 college football season heads into its final big week with almost as many major teams already assured of bowl berths as are on the unbeaten and untied list.

And it's highly possible that by sundown Saturday the situation will be reversed, for two of the six remaining with perfect records face really rugged opposition and a third will have its work cut out for it. Also, Saturday's results may give the four assured bowl teams some company.

Bowl Games Set

Oddly enough, the two teams mostly likely to drop from the unbeaten slate—Tennessee and Stanford—already are assured of action in the Jan. 1 bowl bonanzas. Tennessee which must meet 1951's comeback champions, the Kentucky Wildcats, is lined up for the Sugar bowl, and Stanford, which must go against powerful California, clinched a Rose bowl bid Saturday by whipping Oregon State, 35-14.

Princeton, the third unbeaten-untied team with a tough game Saturday, does not figure in the bowl picture because of an Ivy league agreement. The Tigers, with Saturday's 27-0 trouncing of Yale their 21st straight win, face Dartmouth, which always points for the seasons finale for both teams.

Otherwise, the teams with all-winning records should conclude their seasons that way. Maryland, sound for the Sugar bowl against Tennessee, is heavily favored over West Virginia, Michigan State, No. 1 team in the land, should romp over Colorado and San Francisco should have no trouble against

Central Michigan

Passer Sets Record

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-one completed passes by Central Michigan's star tosser, Andy Mac Donald, highlighted Michigan's college football weekend.

The feat gave Mac Donald a new national small college passing record, but it didn't keep his team from dropping a 46-25 decision to Western Michigan at Kalamazoo Saturday.

He finished the season with 114 completed tosses, 12 of them for touchdowns, for a total of 1,560 yards. In Saturday's game, Mac Donald tried 34 tosses and gained 268 yards on the 21 he completed.

The old record of 112 completed passes was set by Sam McGowan of New Mexico A. & M. in 1949. McGowan gained 1,712 yards. The touchdown record is 26.

Cleveland Sews Up Pro Football Title

NEW YORK—(P)—The main interest in the National Football league today was in the National conference race because for all intents and purposes the American bunting is all tied up by the Cleveland Browns.

This will come as no surprise, of course, since the Browns have made a habit of winning titles since they've been in professional football.

For a while, it looked as though the New York Giants, a young and aggressive club, would give the Clevelanders a battle. But the issue was settled yesterday when Cleveland ground out a 10-0 victory over the Giants before a bumper crowd of 52,215—the largest turnout for a pro

Stumble-Bum Tag Irks Michigan State Coach

EAST LANSING—(P)—"I don't see why anyone should call us stumble-bums," Coach Biggie Munn said today of his Michigan State football team which edged Indiana 30-26 Saturday.

"After all, we won the game," Munn said, adding:

"That's what pays off in the books. Any team that beats Michigan and Notre Dame twice in a row, wins 14 in a row and wins all its games against western conference competition certainly shouldn't be called a bunch of stumble-bums."

Irked By Writer

Munn was irked by a (Detroit Free Press) newspaper description of his team as "a world beater one week—a stumble-bum the next."

Other writers covering the game also had caustic criticism for

MSC, but none found words as biting as "stumble-bum" to express their surprise and shock when Indiana tied Michigan State 14-all at the half and matched the Spartans touchdown-for-touchdown throughout the afternoon.

Captain Bob Carey, with his field goal and three conversions, provided the margin that kept Michigan State undefeated.

"It was the greatest kick I ever saw—that field goal," Munn added.

"Carey was kicking against a strong wind and at an angle, but he made it."

Michigan State was top-rated team in the Associated Press football poll last week. Michigan State has won all eight of its games this season. Indiana has won two and lost six and has a 1-4 Big Ten record.

A letdown was expected but Michigan State was a three-or-four-touchdown favorite after a 35-0 rout of Notre Dame.

Small Crowd

The turnout for the game was disappointing. In Indiana, where basketball is king, there was no enthusiasm. The crowd estimate was 16,000, but was very unofficial.

Tickets couldn't be given away. But it was "Dad's Day" at Indiana—the fathers or sponsors of the football players made their bows at the half. And Indiana had vowed to win a good one for Coach Clyde Smith, who had announced his retirement, before the season was over.

"There were a lot of psychological angles involved in that game," Munn said. "Indiana was

Detroit Hockey Stars Injured

NEW YORK—(P)—Gordie Howe and Bob Goldham, Detroit stars, were nursing injuries today after a 5-2 National Hockey league victory over the New York Rangers here last night.

Howe, who scored two goals, was badly shaken as he crashed into a goal post late in the third period and had to be helped to the dressing room. Later officials said he suffered a "cramped" shoulder.

Goldham, 29-year-old defenseman, got a whack across the forehead which cut a gash that 10 stitches were needed to close.

The 23-year-old Howe was seriously injured in a playoff game two years ago. The head injury almost ended his career and resulted in his wearing a protective head harness.

Red Kelly matched Howe's two goals in the Red Wing victory. The fifth goal was registered by arcel Pronovost, after the Rangers withdrew Goalie Chuck Rayner to give themselves a six-man offense.

high as a kite and the players were trying to win one for Smith. He's a great coach, and I hate to see him go out of the game.

What happened was this: Michigan State got its first touchdown when Dick Panin pounced on the ball behind the Indiana goal line after a fumble in the first period. The second touchdown was set up when Dick Tambo recovered a fumble on the Indiana 25-yard line.

State moved to the five-yard line and Quarterback Al Dorow, Imlay City junior, flipped an endzone pass to Paul Dekker Flint junior, for the score.

Wells Stars

In the second quarter, Indiana completely dominated the play and looked magnificent. Fullback Gene Gedman and Halfback Bill Dozier drove through the Michigan State defense for 80 yards—85 yards if you figure in a penalty—with Gedman going over.

Indiana hammered in again in that second period, but was stopped on the Michigan State one-foot line. In the closing seconds of the half, with the clock dead and the time uncertain, Bob Ashburner threw a desperation pass from midfield to Cliff Anderson on the goal line. It was ruled good for a touchdown.

The score was 14-all at the half. Munn still had his pony backfield in reserve. Billy Wells—"Billy the Kid" to his teammates—provided the shot in the arm with his 83-yard touchdown. Wells, Menominee sophomore, gauged his pace like an old football professional, cutting just at the right time and waiting to pick up his blockers to make sure he could go the distance.

Wells, appropriately, was called to barge over for the next touchdown from the one-yard line after a drive that started on the Michigan State 46.

Carey kicked his field goal and Michigan State was ahead 30-14 in the final quarter. But Indiana surged back again with Lou d'Achille doing the passing for most of the yardage and carrying over for the last two touchdowns.

It wasn't quite enough.

Munn's comment again—"we won, didn't we?"

Illinois Needs Win Or Tie To Clinch Big Ten

CHICAGO—(P)—Unbeaten, but once-tied Illinois, after dominating the big ten football race from the start, Saturday finds itself in a death-struggle finish for the conference crown and a Rose Bowl bid.

The Illini must whip or tie a relentless jinx foe, Northwestern, to stiff-arm Wisconsin or Purdue, deadlocked runners-up, out of the title and bowl picture.

Illini coach Ray Eliot's closing outing at Evanston, Ill., will be against a coach he has yet to beat, Northwestern's youthful "Bob Voigts, whose Wildcats hold four straight wins over Illinois.

Same As Last Year

The scoreless deadlock with Ohio State last Saturday put the Illini into almost the same situation they were in last season on closing day, when they needed a victory to beat out Ohio State or CMichigan for the title. The Wildcats spilled Illinois, 14-7, and Michigan won the crown and a bowl trip with a 9-3 victory over Ohio State.

This time, if Illinois loses to Northwestern, Purdue can sneak off with

Non-Military Agencies See 'Gag' Rule Danger

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Was it necessary for President Truman to issue his executive order on security of information to achieve even the avowed aims of the order? Many Washington officials doubt it.

The order is now being widely challenged as a tool with which government agencies can censor news of scandals, mistakes or maladministration which should legitimately be brought to the attention of the public through the press.

Goals of the order, according to the president, are to standardize procedure of handling classified material among all agencies to prevent "leaks" to the enemy, and to provide more news to the public by eliminating abuses of the system of classifying information.

A survey of the non-military agencies supposed to be affected by the order produced about the same reaction from all of them.

A typical response comes from a spokesman for the Department of Commerce:

"We deal with very little classified material so the order really doesn't affect us very much. And we have had in effect a set of security regulations for a long time which we believe already conform to the order."

He says, as a result, his agency isn't doing anything about the order.

The Commerce regulations governing security of classified information are contained in a 27-page booklet. The wording is as close to that of the varied military regulations as you can get.

In calling the president's order to the attention of its officials, a federal security agency memo says:

"Most of the provisions of the regulations are, in substance, the same as those already included in the security regulations of the FSA. As a matter of fact, relatively little of the agency's work is of a nature which requires classification."

Spokesmen for the Departments of Labor, Agriculture, Interior and the other agencies say just about the same things. They already have classifications systems patterned after the military and state department.

These facts seem to prove there was no great pressing need for the controversial order at this time.

The president, since called upon to defend his order, has not pointed to any one example of an abuse of what he claims to be trying to correct. The one example he cited at his recent heated press conference on the subject turned out to be the fault of the Pentagon, if there was any fault at all involved. And it is after the Pentagon that he wants the other agencies to pattern their programs of security.

The government agencies aren't able to do anything about the secondary aim of the order as expressed by the president, which is getting more news to the people. None of the spokesmen for the agencies feels there have been abuses of the little military censorship they have had to enforce.

In view of all of this, just why did the president issue the order?

The American Society of Newspaper Editors and other press organizations contend that the order constitutes a "grave threat to America's traditional freedom of the press and that there could be something sinister in it."

And this fear is admitted by officials within the government. Asking not to be quoted for obvious reasons, spokesmen from a majority of the agencies who have to do with public relations admit just what critics of the order are claiming. They see a real inherent danger in it from officials eager to cover up trouble or mistakes in their organizations.

The oysters of Chesapeake Bay were once called "inexhaustible," but oystermen now face a dearth of oysters there which has cut the catch from 15,000,000 bushels in 1884-5 to 5,000,000 bushels a year today.
